Subject: Estate Planning: What You Should Know

Kingsley – Everyone has an estate. Many people mistakenly believe that estate planning is only for the wealthy; but a basic estate plan is essential for everyone, regardless of income or net worth. An estate plan minimizes confusion, unnecessary costs and stress for those left behind after a death. Without the proper estate documentation, assets, such as houses, cars, retirement plans, life insurance, savings accounts, furniture and personal possessions, can end up unresolved in the courts for years, sometimes requiring expensive legal assistance to straighten matters out.

Bring your questions and join Chemical Bank Vice Presidents and Trust Officers Larry Johnson and Kathy Dixon on Monday, April 10, at 6 p.m. in Kingsley at The Rock, 115 E. Blair Street, as they provide insight into estate planning.

The event is free with light appetizers provided. Advanced registration is required by Friday, April 7.
